IN SILVER DOLLARS

Three Car Loads of Them Will Pay Big Texas Fine

General Manager W. S. Hancock of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company makes the official announcement that his Company will pay the fine of $1,700,000 imposed by Texas in its Trust prosecution in silver coin.

He says the money will be shipped in silver dollars and the State will be given as much trouble as possible.

It will require three express cars to transport the money from St. Louis to Austin, and will take one expert money handler 35 days to count the coins.

The Waters-Pierce management contemplated paying the fine in half-dollars and quarters, but the Banks in St. Louis refused to make up the sum in these coins.

"America's Winter Playground."

ST. AUGUSTINE, FLA., February 16th, 1909.

In introducing his "Views-a-Foot," printed 'way back in '44, Bayard Taylor said the desire to visit Europe had haunted him from childhood; and I may say the same of my wish to see this quaint old city, for, barring the numerous individual "souvenir" which are on sale on all sides, the city itself is its most interesting souvenir.

And now that I have taken my bearings—more lingo of the sea—I feel like telling a few things that may furnish Jack Orr some copy, fill part of your valuable space, and help your patient readers kill a little time.

If one has the pernicious habit of washing his face o'-mornings, he will find it a difficult job down here. The water is so hard that John Kain couldn't break it with a sledge-hammer. After one trial, I bought a pound of Twenty-Mule-Team Borax—and it had no more effect on it than if it had been hauled by Mike Brown's one lop-eared mule. So I've just had to grin and bear it—and cuss. One thing in extenuation, however. It is about the cleanest city this side of Paradise. The streets are well made of brick and asphalt and the ever-present coquina, and no one is allowed to throw litter of any sort on the highways. A look along St. George street, the principal business thoroughfare, would make Ben Smith, George Crowell, the Woggle-Bug, Sweeper, and the whole City Council ashamed of themselves.

And you might tell George Schwartz that the barbers of this city go a peg better than most anywhere else, for they generally use Florida Water on the humblest customer.

I've seen at least six of the "oldest house in the United States,"—one bearing date of 1516—one hundred and four years before the Pilgrims landed at Provincetown. This house looks it, and so with several others; but in the absence of a local Temple of Shriners, the duty of deciding the question has been delegated to the Elks, as probably the next best liars. But as to other matters of historical interest, the facts are too well authenticated to admit of dispute. In a future letter I will beg enough space to give a brief sketch of Fort Marion, to my mind the bouquet of souvenirs.

A few days ago in company with a young lady I had the strenuous pleasure of spiraling my way heavenward in the Anastasia Island Lighthouse, took refuge in the big lantern at the top, made a circuit around the outer balustrade, heard the Angels whisper, and saw the masts of ships more than thirty miles at sea. The next time I climb up there the other fellow can have the job.

When I went down to the Alligator Farm, where there are, conservatively speaking, not less than two thousand 'gators, in all stages of development, from the little six inch fellow just creeping out of the shell, to a monster eighteen feet long. Guess this must have been the chap who was browsing around in the deep during a colored baptizing, when one of the converts kicked on entering the water.

"Why, brother," urged the Pastor, "can't you trust the Lord? He took care of Jonah, didn't he?"

"Y-a-a-s," admitted the darkey, "but a whale's diff'rent. A whale's got a memory, but ef one o' dem 'gators was ter swaller dis nigger, he'd jes' go to sleep dar in de sun an' fergit all 'bout me."

And while here I learned something. The alligator farmer, who evidently knows his business, says there is absolutely no known method of determining the age of a saurian—although just the day before in the Plaza I heard a learned tourist say the big 'gator in the basin there was 96 years old, for he had ninety rings around his body and tail, having six when he was born, each ring representing a year. I dug down into my mental arithmetic and made the curious discovery that "Old Ben" was six years old when he was born!

Now don't you see what smart fellows we "tourists" are!

NIP IT IN THE BUD.

First Appearance of Dandruff a Forerunner of Future Baldness.

That such is the case has been conclusively proven by scientific research. Prof. Anna, the noted European skin specialist, declares that dandruff is the burrowed-out cuticle of the scalp, caused by parasites destroying the vitality in the hair bulb. The hair becomes lifeless, and, in time, falls out. This can be prevented.

Newbro's Herpicide kills this dandruff germ, and restores the hair to its natural softness and abundance.

Herpicide is now used by thousands of people—all satisfied that it is the most wonderful hair preparation on the market to-day.

Liver Trouble Remedy Free

Any intelligent person can be his own doctor in the ordinary case of liver trouble, for the symptoms cannot be mistaken. If the white of the eye becomes yellowish, if the skin becomes sallow, if pimples and blotches appear, if the bowels do not move, if you have sick headache, if you are bilious, you may be sure that your liver is torpid or inactive.

The quickest and surest remedy yet found for the cure of liver trouble or any of its symptoms is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the great herb laxative compound. This wonderful remedy is not only a laxative, but a tonic as well. It will start the flow of gastric juice, thereby soon enabling the liver to do its work naturally. A bottle of this great liver remedy can be bought of any druggist for 50 cents or $1, and in many cases a single bottle has cured a chronic case.

For example, John W. Lee, 619 S. Pennsylvania ave., Indianapolis, Ind., had a stubborn and very long-standing case of liver trouble, with pimples, blotches, jaundice, etc., and it cured him. Mrs. B. Flinchum, Jackson, Ky., says the same of it. Thousands of families keep it in the house against just such an emergency, as you can never tell when some member of the family will need a good laxative.

In order to have you or any other suffer from the liver make a test of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin without personal expense. Dr. Caldwell will send you a free test bottle if you will send your name and address. The sample will show you how pleasant it is to take, how gently it works. It will start you on the cure of your trouble and convince you that you have found a cure. That is the object of the sample, and the doctor urges you to send for it today.

If there is anything about your ailment that you don't understand, or if you want any medical advice, write to the doctor, and he will answer you fully. There is no charge for this service.

The address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 607 Caldwell bldg., Monticello, Ill.

A Stage of 42 Feet Expected Today at Cincinnati, Crest of Rise

The upper Ohio and the tributaries are falling, and the crest of the rise, due Saturday, is not expected by Bassler to exceed 42 feet.

There has been little rain in the valley during the past 24 hours, and unless the rain becomes heavier the river will be on the decline. Saturday fair, is the weather prediction.

Sells on Cincinnati Breaks at Fancy Prices for 1908 Crop

Another consignment of Missouri-grown white burley leaf tobacco, crop of 1908, was sold Thursday at the Farmers' and Shippers' Warehouse, Cincinnati, the lot of 15 hogsheads ranging from $18.25 to $20.75 per 100 pounds, with an average of $19.32.

West Virginia still holds the record price for "average" on round lots of the 1908 crop by a small margin over Missouri's figure.

PARDONS WANTED

Caleb Powers Personally Appeals to Governor Willson to Pardon Ex-Governor Taylor and Charles Finley

Caleb Powers and Dr. Finley, both of Barbourville, were at Frankfort yesterday, where they appeared before Governor Willson and asked that he consider the granting of a pardon to former Governor W. S. Taylor and Charles Finley, former Kentucky State officials, now exiles in Indiana, charged with complicity in the assassination of Senator William Goebel, and also for John Powers, charged with the same offense, whose residence is not known.

Taylor and Finley will base their plea on the fact that although a Democratic Administration is in power in Indiana, Kentucky prosecutors who are Democrats have taken no action toward securing a requisition for them, although it is believed one would be honored this time because Indiana's Governor is a Democrat, and that they believe there is no chance of securing a conviction of either man in Kentucky.

Finley is reported to be in poor health. If the application for pardon fails, it is expected that petitions will be started all over the country asking a pardon for them, as was the case in the charges against Caleb Powers and James Howard, charged with the same offense, and who were pardoned.

A SIMPLE QUESTION.

Maysville People Are Requested to Honestly Answer This.

Is not the word of a representative citizen of Maysville more convincing than the doubtful utterances of people living everywhere else in the Union? Read this:

Mrs. Della Meane, 328 East Front street, Maysville, Ky., says:

"About seven years ago kidney trouble made its appearance in my case, the first symptom being a sharp pain through my kidneys, accompanied by a bearing-down feeling across my hips and loins. Dull, miserable headaches soon began to bother me, and I often became so dizzy that if I did not catch hold of something I would have fallen. I continued to grow worse, until I was often confined to my bed for a week at a time. No remedy I used helped me, and I was in a bad way. Dropsical swellings appeared, and there was an almost complete retention of the kidney secretions. My body also bloated, and it would be impossible to describe the misery I endured. I had about despaired of ever being cured, when I read of a person who had been freed of a similar trouble by Doan's Kidney Pills. Deciding to try them, I procured a supply at J. J. Wood & Son's Drugstore, and I obtained so much relief from the first box that I continued taking the remedy until entirely cured. I have no hesitation in saying that Doan's Kidney Pills saved my life."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents, Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

It would be a strange thing if a President-elect didn't enjoy chances much above the ordinary.
